INDIANAPOLIS MARKETS.

Trade a Little Slow, as Usual in Early

INDIANAPOLIS, July 2.-In most departments trade was rather quiet to-day.

This is not unusual in the first week in a good business this month, however, is rather favorable. Money is to be plenty.

good prices are likely to prevail and there is a feeling of confidence which creates an activity in trade generally. In prices today there were but few fluctuations. The weak tone to the wool market East has reached this market, and prices are a little will have little effect here. The produce markets, as usual holiday weeks, are act-

The Market Again Falls Back in the Old Rut, with Nothing to Excite It. NEW YORK, July 2.-Money on call was easy, ranging from 2 to 3 per cent. the last loan being made at 212, closing offered at 212. Prime mercantile paper, 519@7 per cent. Sterling exchange was quiet and weak at $4.8514 for sixty-day bills and $4.8714 for

The total sales of stocks to-day were 34. 027 shares, including the following: Atchison, 7.715: Louisville & Nashville, 6,500: Chicago Gas, 12,285; North American, 4,750; St. Paul, 18,790; Union Pacific, 3,083.

The Bank of England this morning further reduced its minimum rates of discount to 212 per cent, but the action even in the absence of news of an unfavorable character, failed to stimulate trading in the stock market here for either domestic or foreign operators, and it seems to have again fallen into its old rut of extreme dullness and stagnation.

The opening to-day was slightly lower on account of some selling which was apparently for foreign account, but the stocks with an international market were equally as dull as the remainder, and the downward movement made no further progress. Throughout the day the industrials attracted most attention, the uncertainties over the dividends on Sugar and Chicago Gas weakening these stocks a little, and manipulation of distillers advanced it 1 per cent., but immediately let it off more than it gained. Among the railroad stocks St. Paul, Atchison and Louisville led in the dealings, but in neither of them were the fluctuations of any importance and only in North American was there any movement whatever in the rail-road stocks which called for comment. The approach of the holiday of course aided in making the market narrow to-day, but the railroad situation promises an early and decided improvement, especially in the way of earnings. The announcement that the four-and-a-half per cents. will be extended at 2 per cent. Insures a large increase in the national bank circulation, which will be coming in time to prevent any stringency in money during the movement of the crops.

The industrials and North American, with Tennessee Coal, were the only stocks recording movements of importance, and only in the last named were the final changes for the day for a material amount. The market displayed a drooping tendency among the leading shares towards the close, but the close was generally steady and decidedly dull at close to first prices. The final changes, owing to the opening losses, are generally small losses, and Tennessee Coal is down 112 per cent.

Railroad bonds were a little more animated, and the sales of all issues reached Se27,000, while no special activity was to be seen in any one bond. The tone of the dealings closely followed the share list, and most changes are in the direction of lower

TRADING AT CHICAGO.

No Further Session of the Board Until Monday Next.

CHICAGO, July 2.-Wheat opened nervous and higher. The bnoyancy developed at the close yesterday and disquieting rumore as to impending manipulation, together with the higher public cables, gave the market a strong send-off to-day, so that during the early trading July sold as high as 94c and December 901ge, or from 14c to 112c above the highest figures made yesterday. "Shorts" were on the run and frantic in efforts to cover. For a time all eyes were on Pardridge, who was known to be heavily "short" of December. A rumor was started that he was being called for 10 per cent. margins, and the crowd seeme! determined to run him in, but the effort was a failure. The big "bears" responded promptly to all calls for margins, and kept right on selling. After a time "bear" news began to come in. The Cincinnati Price Current's summary of the crop situation said harvest operations were progressing favorably, and that all indications as to the big yield were maintained, while spring-wheat prospects were all that could be desired. This was followed by the announcement of the failure of Alexander & Co., of London, large cargo desiers who were said to have gone down owing to their heavy losses in "long" wheat. All this created a marked depression, and the confidence of the "bulls" quickly evaporated. Meantime Pardridge kept on selling. and was soon joined by Cudahy and some large commission houses. "Shorts" had covered pretty generally, "longs", who had aken on wheat on the late depression, began to unload, and the weakness soon dereloped into a regular slump, and July went off to 911se, while December broke to

Fresh excitement sprung up after the noon hour. Late Liverpool cables reported higher prices there, and continental cables were sensational, Berlin showing an advance of 134c per bushel in July, and 112c in September and October, with Paris 20@30 centimes up. To add to the excitement it was reported that Pardridge had at last given up the fight and had started in to cover. This stampeded the little "shorts," and they waded ashore regardless; of the depth of the water. It is understood that Pardridge covered his contracts, and that Cudahy and Ream also succeeded in getting their deals about evened up. It cost some money, however, as in the process July was put up to 945,c, and December to 92c. There was a reaction near the close, which was at 3312@9834e for July and 9114e for December. Corn was excited and higher at the start. "Shorts" showed a good deal of nervous-ness, especially in July, and were anxious buyers while there was little for sale. In the early scramble July sold as high as 571ce, and not much to be had even at that. The feeling seemed to prevail that the

"bulls" held the winning cards, and the "shorts" hastened to move at the best terms possible. There did not appear to be any eaders in the "bull" movement, but every body seemed to be "short" more or less, and frantic to cover, while little was offered for sale. September sold upon the early excitement to 5158@5184c, split and then came the tumble in wheat and the most nervous "shorts" having bought what they wanted, prices started down. This brought out the corn and for a time it was a race to see who could sell the most in a given time and July finally got to 55340 and September to 50% te. The moderate car lots for to-morrow and the reaction in wheat finally carried July back to 5634c. and September to 5112c. There was an active demand for cash corn which sold to 601ge and nearly 9c premium on September. and 3126 over the selling price for the current month. The close was steady at 56080 for July, and 511ge for September.

The fluctuations in oats were governed | receipts, 24,845 bu; shipments, 60,000 bu;

fluenced by grain. But later, on large stocks, more hogs than estimated, and the break in corn and wheat, all products declined. September pork sold early at $10.50 10.55, broke to $10.35, and on the final bulge in grain railied to $10.5712, closing at $10.55. Lard and ribs followed the same general course. Common Sense in Washing Dishes.

Mrs. Grayson, in Table-Talk. Common sense helps along wonderfully in washing dishes, and the right way is always the easiest way; yet I have seen people who call themselves good house-keepers, forget to fill the kettle until just as they want to use it, forget to replenish the fire until they are amazed to find it dead. When at last the water is hot, the dishes are piled helter skelter into the dish pan; glass, silver, plates, just as they came from the table; unscraped and unrinsed; the hot water poured over them all alike, then cold water added to reduce the temperature. A great bar of soap is then allowed to float around, and if it adheres to the dishes it may be wiped off -may be not. The dishes are now washed hap-hazard, just as they come, and put to drain on a large waiter, or more than likely on the bare table, whence little rivulets run to the floor. When all are washed, the towel is used, and as the dishes are cold by this time it takes a long while to dry them, the towel gets saturated and you can imagine how the dishes look. Half the time the wet towel is left lying in a heap, dish-cloth ditto, until they are forgotten;

because they are "going to be washed by

How much less work it would be to walk around the table and collect the silver in a bowl or pitcher of cold water, empty and rinse the cups, scrape the plates and dishes, rinse them and pile them neatly together, arranging the dishes on the dresser, close to the sink, placing the glass first, then the silver, then the cups, saucers, pitchers, plates next, etc. Now, with the dish-pan half full of very hot water, slightly soapy and a good mop, begin first with the tum-blers, wipe each one right out of the hot suds, with a soft linen towel. See how it shines, how clear it is! The silver next; it will need no rinsing; indeed a vigorous | Nordyke & Marmon Co. Estab. 1851 rubbing (with a soft towel) right out of the soapy water will keep it so highly polished that neither prepared chalk nor electro-silicon will be needed for a long, long time. Now wash the cups and saucers, putting them in the rinsing-pan; which must be half full of boiling water, to stay while you wash the pitchers; then drain the cups and saucers, put the pitchers in the rinsing-pan and a pile of plates in the soapy water, letting them remain while you wipe the cups, which coming out of the hot water have dried off a great deal. So continue until all are done, cooking utensils and all. Now scrub the dish-pan, soapcup, drainer, and sink. Take the rinsing water, add a few drops of ammonia and with a little soap wash the dish-towels, mop, and dish-cloth, scald them, riuse well in cold water and hang them out, wipe the dish-pans and put them away, and then put away the dishes before you sweep and dust the kitchen. This is the common-sense way of washing dishes.

The Kieffer pear can be grown in abundance in many sections where other pears cannot. It also succeeds well in almost any part of western New York. It is one of the very best pears for canning puposes, even if not always of good eating quality. It is one of the most productive varieties in existence. There is a great and increasing demand for it in our city markets. It is pronounced to be the most profitable market sort by al who grow it largely.

Among the vegetable foods, even, with which animals are extensively fed in this country, the woody matter is indigestible, and is evacuated in nearly the same physical condition as eaten. The skins of potatoes, all husks, cones and stones, and the membranous coverings of nuts are not digested by the swine's strong stomach, and

The experiments of Lydia E. Pinkham that years ago gave to the world that blessing, the Vegetable Compound, were made through a feeling of sympathy for the af-flicted of her sex. She discovered that nearly all the diseases of woman have a common origin, and therefore may have a common cure. That cure is known in all parts of the civilized world, and an average of 100 letters per day are received from grateful women.
